VII. UPDATE ON THE GOVERNANCE STUDY

Report given by Ed Alvarez, Executive Director

- Scope of work for project is with legal counsel for final review
- Request for Proposal will be out after final review and a vendor will be chosen accordingly
- Vice Chair Terlaje – what is the study for and what does it do for us?
 - Executive Director – it is an assessment of our government and the state it’s in as far as governance. Does Guam meet the minimum standards of self-governance even though we are a colony?
 - It will be used as an educational and reference material to the public education program which will reveal how much control the federal government has on Guam and the effect of that control politically, socially, and economically
 - It is also an overlay to explain benefits and detriments of the current political status
 - It would also be an assessment on what might be possible under each of the three status options in areas such as trade/commerce, taxation, immigration, and culture.
 - It will expose the areas in the government where federal control is not supposed to be that controlling
- A draft of the study will be distributed at the next Commission meeting for review and approval
- Procurement has been slow and cumbersome. Delays continue.
 - Some requests have been delayed over a year. Most task force members are volunteers and can’t follow up full time.
 - Chairman ordered for all involved to get issue cleared up.
- As for public law 33-196, everyone involved needs to meet and make a determination.
- Executive Director – Governance study will come out of local money
- Task forces will get their share of $120,000.00 from the DOI money

VIII. OPEN DISCUSSION

- Outreach Plan
 - Executive Director – sub-committee met and decided to discontinue village outreach tour and agreed a social media marketing plan was a more efficient option.
 - The committee met with vendors and asked if proposals can be submitted for evaluation by the Commission

- GDOE Acting Superintendent Joe Sanchez – spoke about having a curriculum in the schools and then having the students go and provide outreach to the community.
- Victoria Leon Guerrero – offered to give some of task forces’ DOI money to GDOE to enhance a public school program about Decolonization.
- Sanchez – program is written from the colonial perspective and fails to connect the history to the Guam experience, and this is what the students need to learn that is relevant to their everyday life.
- Marketing plan being developed to address questions such as
 - What is self-determination?
 - Who are the colonized people?
 - Why isn’t status quo an option?, etc.
- Commission is currently working with vendors to formulate the plan and submit to the Commission for approval.
- Dr. Mike Bevacqua – request to sponsor a conference during Charter Day
 - No previous discussion so the matter was tabled until further notice.
