Good Morning Jane:

I feel it's reasonable on my part to assume you will not meet with me since I have received no response to my requests to meet with you. Unfortunate but respect your decision.

The Victor General of the Archdiocese asked me if you had responded to my request to meet. Him and members of the Catholic Pro-Life Committee and others were hopeful at least the two of us could meet.

I was honest with Father Rome and told him after he called me that your response was just a link that took me to that Catholic for Choice organization. After he clicked on to the link and read it, the following is what Father Rome texted to me:

"A moral evil such as abortion will remain to be a moral evil even if many accepts it and consider it to be okay or good."
